January 9, 2007

Dear OPRA Market Data Recipients:

OPRA was scheduled to change the traffic distribution for the equity & index option traffic at the start of day January 16, 2007. The distribution method was based on the first 2 characters of the security symbol instead of the first character as is currently done. This change presents problems for some data recipients. The change has been rescheduled until the opening on March 5, 2007.

To more efficiently distribute traffic over the output lines, there will be an interim rebalancing, based on the first character of the security symbol, at the opening on January 16, 2007. The specific line assignments are attached.

Very truly yours,

Joe Corrigan
Executive Director
